THE RALEIGH NEWS

VOL. XIV—NO. 21. RALEIGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 25, 1878. $5.00 PER ANNUM

Mr. Davis in Orange.

The Hon. Jos. J. Davis is still filling his appointments in Orange. The Hillsboro Recorder says: "He has so far made a splendid and deep impression, and the Democratic vote of the county is rallying back to him with constantly gathering strength. We venture no predictions, but we believe he will recall to his support a very large majority of the erring voters of the August election."

Secretary Gorham, who knows more about party finances than he does about those of the nation, says that the contributions to the Republican campaign fund made by people who do not hold office would not exceed $1,000. It appears, therefore, that the Republicans are carrying on a canvass out of assessments levied on office-holders, while professing to believe in civil service reform. Gorham is very angry with the national banks because they are not paying for being defended. He is one of those patriots who imagined that fighting for banks involved high pay, but he begins to think that there is more to be got perhaps by plundering them.

The Goldsboro Messenger says that the negro O'Hara will be asked to "step down and out" of the Republican Congressional nomination in the Second District, and, whether he does so or not, willingly, will be supplanted by a white Radical, who is to be declared the regular nominee. The same paper states: "For several days we have noticed a considerable stir among the Republican leaders, and rather expected that some movement was on foot to to displace O'Hara. We now learn that a District Executive Committee meeting has been called to meet in Goldsboro this week, probably Wednesday, (to-day,) for the purpose of considering the matter, and it is thought the committee will attempt a change of programme."

An Address.

To the Teachers of North Carolina:

The question of the hour is popular education. A wise system of public schools, liberally supported and efficiently administered, is essential, not only to the social and political welfare of our State, but also to its material prosperity. Wealth and knowledge are as inseparable as ignorance and vice. Education expands and sharpens all the human faculties, quickens the public spirit, makes liberal the public sentiment, and creates a thirst for progress and improvement, whereby wealth is produced at home and capital is attracted from abroad.

Never had we greater necessity for education than now. The struggle for wealth and power grows fiercer day by day, and the State which fails to employ the most potent factor of success must be content to see her hard earned gains consumed by others, and to sigh over undeveloped resources. Popular education means a more enlightened and profitable system of agriculture, the introduction of trades and manufactures, the economy of labor by employing machinery, and the economy of material by utilizing what is now wasted, the improvement of our stock the protection of our fish and game, the protection of our forests and the development of our mineral resources. It is safe to say that none of these objects will be accomplished until the public mind is stimulated and directed by a judicious system of education.

This subject has appealed to our legislators, and the wisdom of their action is already seen in its happy results. The establishment of the University Normal School and its successful prosecution for the past two years have deeply stirred the public mind, and throughout the State there is an interest in education unparalleled in our history. There is a general demand for improved methods of instruction, for longer school terms, for a stricter and more intelligent supervision of the public schools, and for the most advanced educational facilities of all kinds. To these demands the representatives of the people will no doubt respond, but we must remember that legislation alone cannot accomplish the work. To a great extent education is in the hands of the teachers, and it is their duty both to take the lead and to bear the burdens. It is for them to observe the defects in the public school system, to devise remedies, and by concerted action to execute their plans. The combined energy, intelligence and enthusiasm of all the teachers in North Carolina can accomplish a great reform in education, but nothing will ever be done by discord or listless indifference. The importance of unity in their efforts was felt by every teacher at the State Normal School, and the result was the organization of the State Teachers' Association.

The object of the Association is to build up the public school system in North Carolina, and the teachers who organized it have thought proper to invite the co-operation of their fellow-laborers throughout the State. The many details of the work will be completed hereafter in accordance with the wishes of the Association when fully organized. The first step is to bring all the teachers together by forming County Teachers' Associations, when at stated intervals the teachers in the respective counties meet together, compare views, read Educational Journals, and familiarize themselves with the methods and ideas of teachers having a national reputation for learning and skill; when they study the needs and wishes of the people for whom they teach, and stimulate them to a due appreciation of education; when they search out and remedy the defects in the public school system, and establish that system firmly in the confidence of the public; and when delegations from county associations meet annually in the State Teachers' Association for conference and mutual improvement, a step will be taken not only for promoting education, but for elevating the business of teaching. The teachers, if they will, may make their calling professional. It is understood that every member of a county association is also a member of the State Association, and is entitled to all its privileges. It is earnestly hoped that no teacher will be found outside of our ranks at the next annual meeting. Both patriotism and self-interest call for the earnest, active and persistent co operation of teachers throughout the State.

The authorized agents of the Association are the members of the Advisory Committee in the several counties, to whom copies of the constitution and letters of advice have been forwarded.

The Association has established a Teachers' Bureau, whose object it is to secure employment for meritorious teachers and to provide suitable teachers for persons desiring to employ them. The Bureau is under the control and management of the Executive Committee.

All persons desiring information concerning the Association or the Bureau are invited to correspond with Prof. George T. Winston, Chairman of the Executive Committee, Chapel Hill, N. C.

KEMP P. BATTLE,
Pres. State Teachers' Association.

Sup't. Pub. Instruction.

Connecticut Convention.

By Telegraph to the News.

HARTFORD, Sept. 24 —The Republican Convention met here to-day. Col Hoyt, temporary, and Stephen W Kellogg, permanent chairman, made speeches, unequivocally in favor of hard money.

Charles B Andrews was nominated for Governor by acclamation, David Gallet, for Lt. Governor, and David Torrence, for Secretary of State, Talmadge Baker, for Treasurer

The platform demands that bonds and legal tenders be paid in the standard money of the world, and that all currency be redeemable in coin at the will of the holder, and that coin and currency be kept at par with the gold standard of the world; declares reissue of legal tender paper in a time of profound peace would be without excuse, and a gross violation of the Constitution of the United States. "We, therefore, demand actual resumption of specie payments at the time fixed, and that Congress shall do no act to delay it. We condemn all attempts to array labor against capital."

Bow Bells.

For some time past this famous peal of bells, one of the finest, if not the finest in the city of London, has been undergoing examination in the public interest, and before long the familiar chimes which captivated or consoled a Whittington, and have since charmed many more from time immemorial, will ring out as before. The church of St. Mary-le-Bow, which, if not originally a Roman temple, as generally believed, was one of the earliest churches built by our Norman conquerers, has been destroyed more than once by storm and fire. It was at one time garrisoned and besieged, and was afterward the scene of an assassination. It was first mentioned as a Christian church in the reign of William the Conquerer. Stow says it was the first in the city built on arches of stone, and that it was therefore called St. Mary de Arcubus, or the Bow, although he elsewise says, but with less apparent probability, that it took its name from certain stone arches supporting a lantern on the top of the tower. By the way, the Court of Arches was formerly held in this church, and derived its name from that circumstance. During the reign of William Rufus, the roof of the church was blown off by the wind, and four of the rafters were driven into the ground with such violence that, although they were each twenty-six feet long, little more than four feet of their length was visible, the ground in the neighborhood being then a mere fen. About one hundred years after this event a tumult of a serious nature occurred in the city, which led to assault upon the church before alluded to The ringleader was William Fitz Osbert, surnamed Longbeard, who was almost worshipped by the lower order on account of his exertions as a professed advocate of the poor against the oppressions of the rich. An attempt being made to seize him, he took refuge in Bow steeple, together with various followers, and being well provided with ammunition and provisions, was able for a long time to defy the authorities. In order to drive him out the steeple was fired. This had the desired effect; the rioters were made prisoners, and after a hasty trial were hanged at the Elms in Smithfield, at that time the usual place of execution. It appeared that Fitz Osbert did not lose his reputation among the people with his life, for it is said that after his death vast numbers of persons resorted to Smithfield, expecting that miracles would be performed, and that they carried away as holy relics pieces of the earth on which his blood had fallen.—London Times.

THE YELLOW DEATH.

Darkness Drearily Drooping—Saddening Scenes—Stricken and Suffering—Masonic Munificence—Odd Fellows' Offerings.

By Telegraph to the News.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24.—Communication with Greenville, Mississippi, by telegraph, has been interrupted for some time, the country people refusing to allow the line repairer to go through. Judge N. J. Nelson, Abe Smith, and old Mr. Morris, of Columbus, are heard of as dead. W. P. Kretchman, Miss Helen Finlay, Miss Hassberg, and Sol. Marshal, have recently died there. Mrs. Kretchman and Nancy Hassberg are recovering.

PORT GIBSON, LA., Sept. 24.—Six hundred cases to date; 100 deaths. The fever is in several parts of the county, and there have been some deaths.

VICKSUURG, Sept. 24.—There were 6 deaths Sunday and 20 new cases, among them the Rev. Father Desoles, of the Convent of Mercy.

Yesterday there were seven deaths, one from the country.

The Vicksburg Howard Association send to-day the steamer Katie Dickson to Greenville, conveying money, and contributions of ice, provisions, doctors and nurses.

The fever has so much decreased here that visiting physicians are going to other points.

The fever is reported at Delta, La., 3 miles below Vicksburg.

President Rockwood, of the Howard Association, is reported in a dangerous condition.

Among the deaths is Henry Locke, a member of the Howards.

The fever is decreasing at Delhi.

Reports of the fever at Mayesville are untrue.

WATER VALLEY, Sept. 24.—The fever is epidemic here. There have been 25 cases and 7 deaths since Thursday. Supplies are needed badly.

HOLLY SPRINGS, Sept. 24.—Col. Kinloch Falconer, Secretary of State of Mississippi, died yesterday. The fever is on the increase—41 cases yesterday, and 5 deaths. The doctors have organized a board of health, with Dr. Gourrier, of New Orleans, President, Dr. Bailey, Secretary.

Grand Junction made a strong appeal for help. We responded, sending Col J C Hess, of Philadelphia, and J A Bumet, of New Orleans, as assistants.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24.—The following explains itself: Jackson, Miss., Sept. 23. "To Free Masons and Odd Fellows of the United States: In behalf of our afflicted brethren and their families in our fever stricken communities, and in behalf of hundreds of others who have been relieved by your timely and general beneficence, I return you our profound thanks for the noble response that you have sent to our appeal for help. I have thereby been enabled to answer promptly every call from ten places in the State, where the fever is prevailing, and with the funds in hand and now coming, will doubtless be able to meet every demand until the close of the epidemic. Should there be any surplus it will be distributed as judiciously as possible for the benefit of the hundreds of orphans bequeathed by the plague to the impoverished communities. In their behalf I would enlist your generous sympathy. The relief received through me has been disposed as fairly as practicable, through committees of both orders, without regard to race, color, or creed. Such has been the expressed wish of nearly every Lodge and brother contributing. I am now obtaining lists of families having special claims upon your care, so that none may be overlooked in the distribution. I have today nearly $50,000, nearly all from Masons and Odd Fellows. In due time a full report of this good work, which it has been my privilege to conduct, will be given to the generous contributors and to the public. It will be a testimony to the goodness and gratitude of the human heart."

(Signed) J. L. PAMER,
Grand Secretary of Masons, Grand Treasurer of Odd Fellows.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 24.—The hope that the fever was abating was dispelled by the reports of yesterday. At the Howard headquarters there is one continuous call for nurses. The Board of Health reported 64 deaths for the twenty-four hours ending at 6 o'clock last night. This is a great increase over the previous day, when only thirty-three were reported. Theodore Holst, Mrs Ben K Pullen, Judge Charles Kortreicht and Chas C Brooks are dead. Judge Kortreicht was elected Chancellor at the August election, by the Greenbackers. Among new cases are E J Carson, Wm M Homan, Captain of police, the wife of Dr. Heber Jones, H S King, R B Clarke. R R Catron, Associated Press agent, died last. No deaths in the past 24 hours. Drew, M. D." A Singular Duel.

One of the most singular duels ever fought on the historic ground of Weehawken, N. J., was between Col. John Swartwout, a noted politician of the day and member of an influential family, and DeWitt Clinton. It grew out of politics, which raged at white heat in the beginning of this century. The American Citizen, a Democratic journal, and the Morning Chronicle, a Federal organ, were bitterly opposed. Swartwout contributed to the Chronicle's columns, and he and the editor attacked the Citizen, and the Livingstons and Clintons, who were on the side of, and frequent writers for, the Citizen. The old Manhattan bank was hostile to Burr, whom the Chronicle warmly advocated, and during a hot political contest refused to re-elect Swartwout as director because he was one of Burr's personal and political friends. Swartwout assailed the bank and Clinton through the Chronicle, and in a subsequent personal dispute between himself and Clinton, the latter denounced the former as a liar and a villian. Swartwout demanded an apology; but Clinton declared that the charges in the newspaper had justified the language; that he would withdraw his epithets, if his opponent would retract the charges, but not otherwise. This the Burrite would not do, and a meeting with pistols was arranged accordingly. Five shots were exchanged. The first three were harmless; but at the fourth Clinton put a ball in the calf of his adversary's leg. Swartwout was not satisfied. At the fifth fire, Clinton lodged another bullet in the leg of his antagonist, who, angrier than ever, demanded still another shot. Clinton, who felt no enmity whatever toward the Colonel, resolved to carry the combat no further, and hearing the determination of Swartwout, said, "Well, then, he may go to the devil, I'll fight no more to-day," and throwing down his pistol, walked off the ground, followed by his friends. The Colonel raved like mad, and threatened to kill Clinton the first time he met him, without giving him a chance for his life. But he thought better of it, and DeWitt Clinton died years after quietly in his bed, a deal happier, no doubt, than he would have been had he sent a ball through Swartwout's brain, instead of making a genteel, though by no means serious wound.

Yadkin Court.

Correspondence of the News.

YADKINVILLE, Sept. 22,

Our court, under our newly elected Judge, Hon. Jesse F. Graves, is just over, his Honor having gained the admiration and approval of his old friends, who, having long known and respected him as a lawyer, are all gratified at his elevation to the bench. Most of the time of the court was occupied in investigating the bonds of some of the county officers, somewhat to the disgust of the bar, which was ably represented, from Statesville, by ex-Judge Furches, Col. Armfield and Hon. Wm. M. Robbins; Messrs. Clement, Bailey, Gaither and Williamson, of Mocksville; Messrs. Everett, Rayle. Mast and Watson & Glenn, of Winston; Mr. S. M. Holton, of Greensboro; Messrs. Dula and Witherspoon, of Wilkesboro, and Col. W. H. H. Cowles, of Ashe, and A. H. Joyce, of Danburry. The local bar was composed of Messrs. Lillington, Wiley, Parson, Holton and R. C. Puryear, jr.

The court was entirely satisfactory to all except those law breakers who were sentenced to pay the penalty of their offences.

The principal topic of public interest with us now is the railroad, which is expected to do great things for everybody. C.

Letter From Wadesboro.

Correspondence of the News.

WADESBORO, Sept. 21, 1878.

The members of our military company are thoroughly awake and bestirring themselves. Laboring under some disadvantages, it has never yet reached the acme of their hopes; but even now it is a source of gratification and pride to our citizens. No one takes more interest in it than J. T. Patrick, the worthy proprietor of the "Herald." Our band is a marvel in musical progress. Dating its birth only three months past, they play many beautiful pieces. Are these apparent luxuries sufficiently appreciated? They certainly perform some part in moulding the public heart. Hours of recreation could not be more usefully employed than in cultivating an appreciation of good music.

STATE FAIR.

The reports from this State institution are very encouraging. Were contributions ever so liberal before? The grand piano, by O. Brymer & Co., was a magnificent gift. No doubt the female schools of our State will more than preserve their prestige in their competitive display. Sales'-day will present a large share of attractions to a great many. May all these auspicious signs prove an earnest of a greater impetus to our material enterprises!

I was especially pleased with the letter of your Greene county correspondent. His views concerning marl should be studied and promulgated throughout the State. It is destined to become an important factor in the future. S.

Gone But Not Forever.

Mr. C. Weikel, the man whose mtto is "Give 'em Fits." has gone North. But let his customers take heart, for he will soon return, bringing with him the latest designs and finest goods, such as he ever offers his patrons. The most elegant fall and winter styles of clothing, far lower than ever before, for cash. Weikel sensibly thinks he can do better for the people than any Northern slop-shops and their New York sprouts. No one who knows Weikel can doubt this. *

MARION, N. C.,
(Via HENRY'S) Sept 24.

In the Secrest trial, the jury got the case at 11 o'clock last night, and at 12 o'clock returned a verdict of GUILTY.

The jury was polled, by order of the Judge, this morning.

The counsel for the prisoner moved for an arrest of judgment, alleging defect in the bill of indictment; which was overruled. A motion for a new trial was also refused.

The prisoner was sentenced to be hanged on Friday, the 15th of November. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court.

The prisoner received the verdict and sentence with indifference.

On the first ballot the jury was unanimous for conviction, and the spectators were unanimous in approval. H.

NOTES.

A St. Louis clerk is named Gassbill. Unhappy man! Everybody disputes him.

Yes, sonny, it is true that that animals have emotions. For instance, a rifleman at Creedmoor can make a bull sigh.

Woman's rights are making great progress in New York. It is stated as a fact that a man in that city has been arrested and held to bail for throwing bricks at his mother-in-law.

Mr. John Sherman ought to appoint a commission of wiry-minded gentlemen to ascertain, if possible, what the opinion of the Secretary of the Treasury is on the important question of finance. And if any actual opinion can be had it should be stuffed without delay, so that it will keep.

Boston Journal of Commerce: At Sunday breakfast table: Paterfamillas to son and heir—"Glad to see you dressed for Sunday school, George; it will be the first time you have been there for six weeks." George—"I know it, father, but Tom Green says the pirate and cannibal books have come, and I'm going every Sunday, steady."

Being informed that Senator Dawes had strongly denounced him in the Republican Convention as not having a record to inspire confidence in his reform professions, Gen. Butler replied: "Tell Mr. Dawes that I never had any credit mobilier stock, and, if I had had, I shouldn't have lied about it! When Mr. Dawes wanted me to help elect him Senator, he wasn't so particular about my record."

The efforts of a small number of men, who have been endeavoring to compass the removal of Solicitor Rayner, have been based altogether on his decision in the Richmond and Danville road case, which, it was claimed, gave to a Southern road a larger rate of compensation than was allowed Northern roads. Mr. Rayner disposes of the charges against him in an able letter to Secretary Sherman.

Good Advice.

Detroit Free Press.

Major Axle Cabiff, of Quebec, has been giving some excellent advice to the Lime-Kiln Club, of Detroit, in an eloquent speech reported in the Free Press. Among other wise things, he says:

"Dar am some fings I doan' like to see de cull'd man do. I doan' like to see him pull out an ole watch, wid de wheels all busted up an' de springs all gone, ebery time he goes by de City-Hall clock, same as to make de public believe dat he carries a ticker worf fo' thousand dollars. I doan' like to see one of our race walkin' up and down in front of a barber-shop an' talkin' 'bout sight-drafts on Noo York, discounts, endorsed checks, an' de like, same as if he could git 'long widout work, when we all know dat his winter obercoat am in de pawn-shop. I doan' like to see cull'd folks gittin' togedder to pass a vote dat de times am de wust ebber seen, an' dat de winter will be de awfullest ebber known, kase the man who blows de most about de times am one of de very chaps who keep 'em so. I doan' like to see an honest, law-abiding, an industrious cull'd man creepin' 'long ez if he war much obleeged to the hull world dat he was 'lowed de use of de sidewalk; but yit I doan like de chap who scrapes a few clothes togedder, borrys a few mo', picks up a ten-cent cane, an' goes sailin' up an' down de streets ez if he war about to hire de biggest hall in town an' pay a month's rent in advance. He may deceive some of de old apple-women, but de rest of de public will wonder if he sleeps in a barn or turns in wid de reg'lar stashunhouse lodgers. I bid you all good-by, an' I trust dat your motto in de fucher will continer to be: 'Keep de head up, de heart right, an doan' be afeared of honest work.' Wid a hope dat each an' every one may live to see de foolishness of de cull'd race buyin' stand'-up collars, alligator butes, an' drugs to remove freckles, I maintain my considerate equivalent."

The Romance and Reality of Railroading.

To the young man leaving his ancestral farm for the first time for a trip to "the big city," or to the young damsel of the rural village who goes to the depot of a summer afternoon to "see the train come in," there is a romantic and undefined charm about the life of the steam railroad employe. The youth thinks nothing could be so desirable as to be forever whizzing from place to place at express speed, seeing the city and the country every day or twice a day, and passing a life of adventure with a sufficient spice of danger to make it exciting. The rus-maiden takes many a sly glance at the athletic form and bronzed face of the brakeman who so dexterously brings the train to standstill at the long platform, and at the brawny baggage master who so lightly whirls and tosses out the huge "Saratogas" from their place of temporary confinement, and doubtless after a time grows sufficiently bold to exchange first nods, then kindly greetings with the knights of the rail, whose visits so agreeably break the monotony of her quiet existence. To both the conductor is a superior being, to be looked up to and admired at a distance, and his gold laced cap and authoritative 'All aboard' are seen and heard with something akin to awe. The youngster feels that his highest ambition would be gratified coulp he secure a place "on the line," with a fall prospect of becoming sometimes a conductor, and the damsel dreams, perhaps, of some day being the wife of that noblest creation of civilization, a railroad man. But the experienced traveler, who finds in his own business journeyings to and fro weariness and vexation of spirit, is apt to feel that nothing could be more tedious than to be compelled to assist in running a train, and the wife of a conductor or brakeman finds in the lonely hours when her husband is on the road, and in the constant anxiety for some safety, little of the romance she anticipated, and looks forward to the day when he may get into some business which will enable him to spend his meal times and his nights at home, and which will not so constantly imperil his life. And yet to the railroad man himself there almost always remains sufficient of the fascination of the employment to make him loath to quit it, and often to induce him to return to it after a trial of other occupations.

THE ELM CITY.

Fair and Kind Woman—Aid for the Suffering—A Musical Treat.

Special Correspondence of the News.

NEW BERNE, Sept. 21.

Our city, between the rivers, old but not degenerated, venerable but not decrepit, antiquated but not worn out, and moss grown, but not dilapidated, has been bestirring herself for the few past weeks, and repeating her old-time efforts for the good of others. Her movements in this direction culminated on last Wednesday evening in a grand concert and dramatic representation, by which the neat sum of $400 was realized, and the amount immediately forwarded to the proper authorities, for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers of our sister cities of the South and West. Inasmuch as Newberne can justly boast of her fine array of amateur talent, it has occurred to us that a brief notice of those most worthy of mention would not be unacceptable to your readers, especially those connected with our old burgh by ties of blood and marriage. Good taste, regard for your valuable space and respect for the patience of your patrons, will, however, limit us to those of the entertainment who show brightest in the musical coterie. Mrs. Fuqua, a handsome visitor of Mrs. Bayard Clarke, exhibited great skill in execution and fine taste in expression through her rendition of a potpourri from Verdi. The Misses Ellis and their amiable mother, assisted by Mrs. McLean, sang, with the correctness of rare culture, the sweetness of nature combined with perfect training, and afforded, as the latter, particularly, always does, a pleasure to the audience that was "sans aloi et sans fatigue." But the gem of the evening and musical star, "par excellence," was Miss Ives, a beautiful young lady, from the region where lovely songsters are wont to come, possessing a voice of wondrous sweetness, volume and compass. So thoroughly has it been trained and cultivated that she reaches the highest notes above the staff with the clearness and distinctness of a Christmas carrol, while her trillings are not surpassed in their bird-like purity and beauty by professionals of the highest grade and experience. Her rendition of a duett, assisted by Mr. James Sultan, a very fine baritone, elicited great enthusiasm, but her solo of the "Flower Girl" was her "chef d'œuvre," brought down the house, and was repeatedly encored. Her appearance at an entertainment in this city is sufficient to ensure it success. Miss Ellis Lehman played the accompaniment with the skill of an artist.

Growth of Wheat.

Below is given a letter from one of the best farmers in this county or the State:

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, Sept. 20.

MESSRS. Kelley, Purefoy & Brewer,
GENTLEMEN:—In reply to your inquiry as to the effects of "Long's Prepared Chemicals" for wheat, I would state that I sowed a ten acre cotton lot in wheat last December, using the "chemicals" in conjunction with cotton seed as a fertilizer. The yield was 150½ bushels of wheat of excellent quality. The season here, as elsewhere in the State, was a very unfavorable one for wheat. Had the season been favorable I have no doubt but the yield would have been much greater. The wheat was sown the week before Christmas, rather late for the best results. I think much of the yield is to be attributed to the "Chemicals." I regard them an excellent fertilizer.

Yours truly,
P. H. MANGUM.

The firm above named keep full supplies of this valuable fertilizer, which they can furnish promptly at any point on the R. & G. Railway. *

Bound to Please.

A look into the store of Latta & Myatt, on Martin street, convinces one that one of the choicest and most carefully chosen stocks of goods in this city is there kept. The prices are at bottom rates, and those wishing to make purchases in the way of general supplies can find no better place. *

To Carpenters and Builders.

If you are needing anything in the way of edge tools or builders hardware, of any kind, we would advise you to call at J. C. Brewster's hardware house, where you can find a splendid stock of goods in this line, and at prices to suit the scarcity of money. All tools sold are fully warranted. He will contract for roofing at prices which will enable you to put in your bids (where there is any tin work to be done) lower than ever, giving you an opportunity to use tin in place of shingles.

He uses nothing except the best material. J. C. BREWSTER,

The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural results. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles, to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want.

The receipts of cotton in Raleigh are rapidly increasing, and their growth is due to the energy and judgement exercised by commission merchants. School Books.

With the rapid and gratifying revival of our educational institutions, public and private, in the South, it is of the highest importance that they should be furnished with the most improved modern appliances and with the most judiciously prepared and selected text-books. The importance, especially, of a wise discrimination, in the latter respect, cannot be too rigidly enforced, whether we have reference to books of rudimental or elementary instruction or to those which are proper for more advanced students. Conscientious teachers should carefully examine and thoroughly analyze the merits of the various educational publications, which are pretentiously put forward as standards, before introducing them into the schools of which they have charge. This admonition, at the present time, is more particularly necessary for teachers of public schools, who are, in many cases, under a sort of compulsion of compliance with the views or prejudices of committee-men who have control of their appointment and salaries.

Of course we would have the text-books of our schools fully up, in every possible respect, to the most advanced standard. Next to that requirement,—almost equal to that necessity,—we would have it seen to that none of those text-books, in the various departments of scholastic requirement, are tinged, in the slightest degree, with sectional or sectarian ideas. The early impressions of the young mind cannot be effaced, but will color and influence all the after current of life. And just here we say, without dwelling further upon this point, and without caring who takes exception to the sentiment, that we should cause to be rigorously excluded from our schools in the South any History, for instance, that, in treating of the late war, speaks of the Southern people as traitors; any Reader, for instance, that parades, as choice specimens of rhetoric or elocutionary capability, sectional diatribes; or any Geography, for instance, that exhibits vast climatic or physical advantages, existing in the eye of prejudice, of one section over another. So much, by way of generality.

We have just had real pleasure in examining a series of school books, known as the University Series, which are already in use in many of our schools and colleges, and which have impressed us as every way admirably adapted to the various grades of scholarship and capacity for which they are designed. A somewhat close and critical examination of their contents has strengthened our conviction of their utility and value. The lessons are "set" in an intelligent, perspicuous, simple and yet comprehensive manner, and there is an utter avoidance, in them all, of mere theories or notions, fantasies or prejudices. Besides this, they are gotten up in solid and durable, but yet cheap and economical, style. The parts of the series to which we more particularly allude, as having passed under our observation, are: 1. Maury's Geographies, five in number, including the Physical, and graded according to the progress and capacity of the learner; 2. Holmes' five Readers, with the Speller, arranged with the same reference; and (3) Venable's Mathematical series of seven books, from the first lessons in numbers to the abstruse calculations of Algebra and Geometry. These are all emanations of Southern mind and the product of Southern genius, industry and generous ambition, and, taken in conjunction with the classical series of Bingham, of our own State, furnish most that is necessary for our educational curricula. We are gratified to know that, already, these books have been adopted as the standards in many of our schools, and we know that they have commanded the hightest testimonials from Professors of the University and of Trinity College, from the Superintendent of Public Instruction and from numerous equally meritorious and accomplished Educators.

Mr. L. Branson, Bookseller, of this City, is the agent, through whose courtesy we have been enabled to pass judgment on the publications which we have felt it a real pleasure to endorse and commend. In so doing we feel that we have done a valuable public service.

The Pestilence as a Peace-maker.

The Philadelphia Times, which is a journal of great fairness, occupying a sort of middle-ground in politics, has an interesting and admirable article under the above caption, which abounds in some sentiments that command our warmest sanction. After an allusion to the differences and struggle of the past, it turns from the spectacle and says, with the genuine feeling of sympathy:

"The South is prostrate; the North is in tears as for a suffering sister. There is nothing that we would not do to relieve her distress. New York, with the bounty of a city of princes, raises over three hundred thousand dollars for the Southern relief fund, and is still untiring in the good work. Philadelphia, where there was, perhaps, the most conspicuous and unflinching opposition to the old South, only asks how much is wanted. A hundred thousand dollars have gone Southward and the dimes and dollars are still falling into the boxes over which the yellow flag is waving; if as much more is needed it will be forthcoming. Nor are the large cities the only almoners of the bounty of the nation. Every city, town and hamlet; every lodge, society and club; every church and theatre; every shop, store and factory esteems it a privilege to contribute for the furtherance of the good work until for telling the vast total the unit of millions is required. The sturdiest in war have been most active in the kind offices of peace."

And then it indulges in the following reflections which will, or ought to, find a response in every Southern heart. For ourselves, who did all that we could, during the late war, to uphold and maintain the cause of our section, we cordially endorse the utterances which follow from the Times. The Union is a verity that none shall henceforth question, and the highest aim and aspiration of us all should be to build up its bulwarks and cultivate sentiments of fraternity and kindness among its people. Political differences, based on sectional or other interests, will exist, but it will be a happy day for the Republic when the bitter acerbities of sectional feeling shall only be remembered to be avoided in the future. Says the Times:

"But it is rather of the effect upon the South that we would dwell. We have done no more than our duty, and vaunting our charity is vain glory indeed. The relief of individual cases of suffering and desitution, the succor of whole cities, bereft of their means of making a living, is a great work, but that is a matter of course. The North has done no more for the South in her extremity than the South would do for the North if affliction were at our doors. The pleasing thing about it all is that the South receives our aid in the spirit of fraternity in which it is given. There is no abject acknowledgment of charity, no effusive expression of gratitude, but on every hand a manifestation of thorough appreciation of good will. Aid is accepted as a new proffer of esteem, as an earnest of the complete restoration of amity. No reader of Southern newspapers at this time, whether they be the dingy half sheets crowded with funeral notices that come from Memphis, the New Orleans dailies which have not suffered so severely, or the journals from communities still untouched by the plague, can fail to be impressed with the spirit of affection towards the North which now permeates editorials, paragraphs and communications, and is more impressive than the set language of resolutions or the curt but kindly acknowledgment by telegraph. Affliction has brought this people nearer together. They realize as never before that they are one people, welded anew in the furnace of trial. The Union is a verity that none shall henceforth question. What God hath joined together let not man put asunder."

"The Ancient Mariner," Revised

Most of our readers are doubtless well acquainted with the strange story of the "Ancient Mariner", so weirdly told by Coleridge. To such, the wit and point of the following portions of a parody in the New York World will be apparent and amusing. Some of the recent political complications in this country do really present marvels as grotesque as any that were whispered into the astonished auricle of the Poet's spectral navigator.

"I swear, thou Ancient Mariner,
All I have said is true;
And save the tidings from Maine, Maine, Maine,
There is little that is new.
Doubtless you from some coaster learned,
That chanced to cross your track,
That Secretary Sherman's turned
Friend of the green greenback."
(The seaman glared as if prepared
To burn his ship or scuttle her)
"And the Massachusetts Democrats
Have nominated BUTLER ! !"

He drew back, that Ancient Mariner,
In his tracks where he did stand,
And he smote his interlocutor
With a huge and tarry hand;
He smote him on the red, red nose,
And on the black, black eye,
And he said, in Horace Greeley's words,
"You lie, you villain, you lie!"
And he strode back to the Ellen Jane,
And said, "We sail to-morrow,
And never will I head her again
Towards this Sodom and Gomorrah;
Where a man the most gigantic lie
Will shamelessly invent,
Though he knows that he will not thereby
Profit a single cent;
Where roaring liars go about,
In search of simple men,
To feign that Maine has gone back on Blaine,
That Sherman's turned to his greenback again,
That the Democrats follow Ben!".

Let us stop the "Ancient Mariner" and say that in his ear which will precipitate his ghostly departure from a clime where such things be:

Tarry, thou Ancient Mariner,
I've a stranger thing to tell,
Of what of late, in the Old North State,
Some parties there befell.
No coaster e'er that crossed your path
Could a tale so wild impart;
But listen and restrain your wrath
And lay it well to heart;
It is of how, in conclave dark,
(Don't scuttle ship or burn her,)
The North Carolina Radicals
Have endorsed—JOSIAH TURNER !!

Tarry not did he, that Mariner,
But straightway did make sail,
Nor waited he for further news,
Nor for propitious gale.
"I go," said he, "I will not stay,
Where things like these can be:
That man should barter self away,
And Pride and Honesty!
Of all I've heard, no tale has stirred
My shame and feelings so—
That Ike and Dick, and Gunter, eke,
Shall thus have swallowed JO !

Post-Scripts.

The New York Times thinks that the Republican party never had in all its life such an opportunity as it now has to show the nerve of its leaders and the force of conviction among its masses. Precisely. A malefactor on his way to the gallows was exhorted by his jail companions to brace up, as it was the last opportunity he would have to show what he was made of!

And yet the silvery voice of Stanley Matthews is hushed and still, though the combat deepens in Ohio and the brave are supposed to be rushing to glory or the grave. Perhaps, however, the Republican Committee thinks that Stanley has completed his rush in the latter direction.

Hale says his party "must take no steps backward." Then how are they going to find him?

We don't believe John Sherman ever said to an interviewer that he was tired of public life. The remark must have been dictated by Mrs. Jenks.

It is asserted that Ben Butler wrote the Massachusetts Democratic platform. If he did, we presume it is the first time he ever wrote anything that he didn't believe, without receiving a large fee for doing it.

Does Mr. Hayes continue to cavort about the country in order that the rumbling of car wheels and the roar of the hackmen may drown the still, small voice of conscience?

The Massachusetts Radicals during the war used Butler to spite the South. The South can now return the compliment by using Butler to spite the Massachusetts Radicals.

BEAUTY:

OR THE

Secret of a Fair Face

AN ITEM OF INTREST TO EVERY LADY WHO DESIRES TO BE MORE BEAUTIFUL THAN SHE NOW IS.

Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion.

What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish.

It can be done; it is done daily. Prof. W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called

MAGNOLIA BALM

The MAGNOLIA BALM is a sure device for creating a pure and blooming complexion.

It conceals all natural blemishes in the most surprising and effective manner.

It removes all roughness eruptions, redness blotches, freckles, and tan with magical power.

It drives away all evidences of fatigue and excitement.

It makes the plainest face beautiful.

It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck, face, and arms appear graceful, rotund, and plump.

It makes a matron of 35 or 40 look not more than 20 years old, and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle.

The Magnolia Balm removes all blemishes and conceals every drawback to beauty; and while it is as harmless as water, it is so life-like in its effects that the closest observer cannot detect its use.

Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make an absolute certainty of it by using HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM. And we know of no other way. It is the cheapest preparation in the world, all things considered, and may be had at any drug store.

HOME REMEDY.

THE MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE!

A CERTAIN AND SPEEDY CURE FOR SCROFULA.

FACTS ARE STUBBORN THINGS!

My receipt for the cure of Scrofula has been tried by me with the most unprecedented success for the last twelve years, and I have no hesitation in recommending it as a sovereign cure for that disease and as a general Tonic and Blood Purifier. It is everywhere giving perfect satisfaction. While my experience with it is too limited for me to specially recommend it for other diseases, I believe it will ultimately prove to be of benefit in all cases arising from impurity of the blood, and probably for other diseases.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 12, 1878.

MRS. JOE PERSON,

Dear Madam, I have been using your Remedy for Scrofula over five months as an experiment for cancer. The cancer is of long standing, the Doctors have been treating it, more or less, for twelve years, it has taken off my upper lip and a good part of my nose. When I began to use your Remedy it was growing rapidly worse, but the medicine appeared to check it very soon, and it has not made much progress since, except about two months ago, the medicine gave out, and I was without several days. It then seemed to start anew, and grew worse very fast, until I had taken the medicine about a week, since then it has not changed much. I think if I could have had the medicine soon enough, it would have cured me.

For more than a year before using your medicine, I was troubled very much with a disease of the heart, an irregularity in its action. It would miss every third beat for hours, then at other times it would increase in its action, and run up to 200 beats per minute. Since using your medicine I am almost entirely relieved of this. I rarely feel it, and then not enough to speak of it. I would recommend any one suffering with heart disease to try your medicine. As a Tonic and Alterative, I don't think it has any superior. I have been using all the most powerful Alteratives known to the medical profession for the last 12 years and I know of none superior to this. I think your medicine is destined to be a great blessing to the afflicted. Let every one that needs a Tonic or an Alterative give it a trial, and I do not think they will be disappointed.

Very truly and respectfully,

JOHN BUIE, Box 141,

Fayetteville, N. C.

For my personal reliability, I refer, by permission to Rt. Rev. Thos. Atkinson, D. D., North Carolina; Geo. A. Foote, M. D., Warren, Co.; Hon. S. J. Davis and C. M. Cooke, Franklin Co.

The above medicine is for sale by Pescud, Lee & Co., Wm. Simpson, and F. H. Heartt, Druggists Raleigh, N. C. or it may be ordered direct from me. For further information, enclose stamp for Circulars to Weather Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 24.

For the South Atlantic and Gulf States, falling barometer, warmer south and east winds, stationary and falling barometer will prevail.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Buffalo Bull will play in Charlotte next week.

——About 225 lock boxes have been taken at the new post office.

——The colored minstrels appear this evening at Metropolitan Hall.

——The A. P. K. Club meet this evening, at 8 o'clock, at their rooms.

——A drummer's license was issued yesterday to Samuel E. Egerton, Baltimore, Md.

——M. Y. Chappell, Esq., of House's Creek township, has resigned the position of magistrate.

——The colored Methodists held a dime party at Metropolitan Hall, last evening, for the benefit of their church.

——And now the ancient dry goods box is resuscitated and made to do duty once again, as a screen for store fronts.

——The postoffice authorities are daily expecting a dispensation permitting their removal into the new building.

——An accident to the freight train, on the N. C. R. R. yesterday morning, delayed that train and the mail half an hour.

——The tax lists are in the sheriffs hands. Mr. A. D. Royster & Bro. have the honor of being the first merchants to settle up.

——Two men, who had been guilty of an affray yesterday afternoon, were stowed away in the guard house, to await trial this morning.

——No cases were tried in the Mayor's Court yesterday. S. O. B. Hand, a drunken tramp, was sent on to the county jail, as a vagrant.

——The regular semi-monthly meeting of St. John's Guild will be held at the Reading Room this (Wednesday) evening, at half past eight o'clock.

——W. R. Harris, Principal of the colored graded school, has adopted the University series of text-books, prepared at the University of Virginia.

——Purchasers of family supplies will do well to read the local advertisement of that reliable grocer, J. P. Pritchard, Jr., and then give him a call.

——Business was not particularly brisk yesterday, but then merchants are hard at work filling up their stores, and so the day was not lost by any means.

——A notice is given among the new advertisements that the grocery store of Mr. M. Grausman will be closed on Saturday, which is Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year.

——John W. Thompson, Esq., has resigned the position of Magistrate in New Light Township. Judge Upchurch will fill the vacancy by appointment.

——It is said that one of the city drug stores is soon to be moved into the Bagley building. By cutting a large window in the side near the front, it could be made an attractive place for such a business.

——The advertisement of Mr. Wm. Woollcott, who has deservedly won a reputation as a tradesman, appears today in another column. The quality of goods kept by him, as well as their price, are satisfactory to all buyers.

——Two clever, kind-hearted colored men of Oxford, Alex. Hester and Terry Skidmore, offered their services to Mayor Manly, to go as nurses to any point in the fever infected districts. The offer was declined, with thanks.

——And now it is said the county authorities intend, in moving the old post office hulk to the rear of the court house, to cut down several of the trees. The citizens ought to protest vigorously against this measure.

——A boy of some 12 years ran down Fayetteville street in the afternoon, and as he ran a revolver fell from his pocket. Striking the pavement it exploded. The young walking arsenal was bagged by the police, but released after receiving a good fright.

North Carolina Fruit.

The Rural New Yorker says the largest, best colored, flavored and packed peaches were shipped from the fruit growers of Salem, N. C. Mr. S. T. Mickey, of that enterprising place, shipped peaches to Montreal, Canada, for which he received the highest price.

Abstract of Taxes.

The State Auditor yesterday received from Joseph Hudler, Register of Deeds, Ashe county, the following abstract of listed taxables:

General Taxes,	1,196.33
Special "	1,223.52
School "	2,395.42
General "	5 535.84

The Orphans.

A chapter of orphans from the Asylum at Oxford, under charge of Superintendent J. H. Mills, will give a free concert at the Salisbury street Baptist Church Friday evening, September 27, at 7½ o'clock. An earnest appeal is made to the liberal to come out and hear the beautiful songs of these orphaned little ones. The last exhibition given here proved most delightful, and it is hoped the church will be crowded on this occasion.

Draped in Mourning.

The office of the Southern Express company is tastefully draped with emblems of mourning. On a tablet are these words, in bold black letters on a white ground: "In memory of William Willis, Superintendent Western Division Southern Express Company, who died of yellow fever, in Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 15th, 1878. A noble life sacrificed in the service of his fellow-man."

Spare the Birds.

Sportsmen say that certain impatient hunters are actually going out gunning for quail now, and returning with forty or fifty fledgelings, which they might have killed with a brush. Why these hasty Nimrods cannot wait until the birds are better grown and the proper season has arrived, cannot be seen. They ought to be restrained from such a slaughter.

Fell In.

Mr. Tom. Bridgers has been making some improvements at his gin house near this city. One side of the house was partly supported by props. A quantity of earth was banked against the other, and its accumulated weight caused the downfall of the building ere it could possibly be prevented. In the cellar was a steam engine, etc., for the gin. The building fell on this, and it is not yet known to what extent the damage may reach. The loss will not be less than some hundred dollars.

Occupying New Quarters.

Yesterday the removal of the official papers etc., of Col. I. J. Young, Collector Internal Revenue, to his new quarters in the United States Court House and Post Office began. He will occupy two front rooms and one rear room on the second floor. The large double safes furnish ample protection and accommodation for valuable documents, stamps etc. The rooms are, of course, spacious and elegant. The furniture to match not having arrived, the old will be used for a time.

Military Gossip.

It has been decided to call a meeting on Tuesday evening, at the Mayor's office, for the purpose of effecting a reorganization of the Raleigh Rifles. This company was during the war K. Company, 14th Infantry, N C S T., and as such bore an honorable name during the struggle. Quite a number of the old members live here, and it is hoped that these, with younger spirits, may succeed in reviving the old organization. Raleigh folks are not particularly enthusiastic about anything, but is hoped the company may be successfully started and kept up.

Board of Aldermen.

There was a called meeting of the city council last evening, over which Mayor Manly presided. It was called to fix the vote of taxation for 1878, and to take into consideration the rate of wages of the street force.

It was decided that the rate of taxation be the same as last year's, namely: $1 per $100, on real estate and personal property; 33¾ cents special tax; $2.60 poll tax, special; dogs $1.25 each.

The resolution fixing the pay of street hands at 75 cents per day was rescinded. The rate of $1 per day was agreed upon, the same as before.

No other business of importance came before the Board.

No Prize Drilling at the Fair.

Speaking of the target match of the troops of the Guard at the Fair, the Charlotte Observer most sensibly says: One of our military men thinks that the managers of the State Fair ought to have given the largest premium to the best drilled company in the State, not to the company which has the ten best marksmen. Fine marksmanship said he, is a very desirable quality in a soldier, but it should be his highest ambition to be well drilled. The State Agricultural Society could have given then visitors to the Fair no more interesting sight than a drill contest, and could have added greatly to the efficacy of the military by offering a big prize to the best drilled company.

Renting Fair Ground Privileges.

Yesterday the various beer stands, eating houses, etc., at the Fair Grounds, were publicly rented for the approaching Fair. Quite a number of the usual bidders were present, and the following prices were obtained for the privileges:

The privilege of selling beer at the four stands north of the grand stand were taken by A. W. Fraps, T. F. Lee, Geo Tonnoffski and J Higgs, at $65 each. The centre stand by Farris & Co. at $85. After this, in order, eating stand privilege No. 1 to W Salmons, $20.25; No 2, Chas Perry, $29; No 3, L D H Whitehead, $35; No 4, Thos Young, $20; No 5, W N Harris, $16; No 6, Matt Moore, $51; No 7, W E Davis, $65; No 8, T B Macon, $23.50.

The larger dining room on the first floor of the grand stand was taken by Nelson Blake, at $161; the smaller one by the same, at $85; the two on the third floor by Arthur Williams, at $20.

Other beer stands were sold to W F Prather, at $35; another to the same, at $18; one to A W Fraps at $19 50; one to Tim Lee, at $28; and to R H Alston, at $24. Other beer privileges were let to O'Neill & Co., at $8 50; the same, $6.50; N Jolly, $5, and one near Floral Hall to Mr Lamond, at $35.

The total received for all the stands and privileges was $1049.75.

The Next State Fair.

Donations to the North Carolina Agricultural Society, for the Eighteenth Annual Fair, October 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19th next, at Raleigh, N. C. [Acknowledged by C. B. Denson, Secretary, in behalf of the Executive Committee.]

One castor, silver plated style, No 224, $8; one castor, style No. 2,047, $12; one pickle stand, No 127, $6; one single pickle castor, $4.50; one basket, chased, No 1,457, $12.50; one bucket, chased, No 1,473, $5; one card basket, chased, gilt, No 260, $10.50; one vase, No 25, $8 50; one card basket, chased, No 195, $6.25; two vases, $14: given by Simpson, Hall, Miller & Co., Wallingford, Conn., saleroom 676 Broadway. We have in this donation another evidence of supub liberality toward our Fair. The goods are exceedingly beautiful, and may well be praised by those who will receive these testimonials of the superiority of those exhibits. They have set apart to be awarded chiefly in those departments in which the ladies are interested. We call the attention of dealers in North Carolina, to this liberal firm.

Twenty pounds knitting cotton, given by W H H Hill, Agent Oakdale manufacturing Company, Greensboro, N. C. This is the second time that we have been indebted to this enterprising Company, developing a home industry, for a contribution of its goods, and return our best thanks to the Oakdale for this timely and useful donation.

One new excelsior farmers' boiler, 15 gallons capacity, $16, given by Isaac A Sheppard & Co., Southwest corner Eastern Avenue and Chester street, Baltimore. One more of the list of valuable implements, machinery, and farm appliances, to go to the farmer and stockraiser, at the Fair, now rapidly approaching.

Full to Overflowing.

The magnificent dry goods store of the Messrs. Tucker presents an appearance of busy trade now. The enormous quantities receiving are stowed away somewhere, and at night are carefully sorted. The shelves are filled with everything in the line of dry goods, furnishing goods, etc., that can be called for. Not content with purchasing goods from the Northern markets, the Senior partner bought largely while abroad. In a day or two the store will be fully in order and the beautiful and varied stock properly displayed. Never will the interior appear to more advantage than at such time, for it will give one a charming idea of what taste and skill can do in the way of arrangement.

For the Sufferers.

The sum of $2 25 was received yesterday for the yellow fever sufferers, from Rev. R. N. Crooks, of Harrellsville, N. C.

The Wine for Consumptives.

Consumptive persons are said to be greatly benefitted by the use of Speer's Port Grape Wine. It seems to give nourishment when everything else fails, and physicians prescribe it as a rich nutrious wine. Wilcox & Haywood, Agents. sep 18 6

Environed with Danger.

The dweller or temporary sojourner in a malarious region of country is environed with danger. Besides inhaling at every breath an atmosphere saturated with an infectious poison, he also drinks water which is in most instances likewise impregnated with the fever and ague breeding miasmata. If a bilious subject, deficient in stamina, or irregular in habit of body or digestion, his peril is much increased, as these abnormal conditions are extremely favorable to the contraction of malarial disease. But this danger may be safely encountered with the assistance of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which completely nullifies the atmospheric virus, and neutralizes the constituents of miasma tainted water. This deficient antidote to disease eradicates and prevents fevers of an intermittent and bilious remittent type, besides effecting a thorough and permanent reform of those enfeebled or irregular conditions of the system which invite not only malaria, but other diseases equally to be dreaded. sep 24 4t

JONES' BAKING POWDER

FOR SALE BY ALL GROCERS.

We ask all cooks, housewives, and the general public to give our goods an impartial trial. This Powder is carefully prepared upon scientific principles—the result of long and careful experiments and tests in chemistry. In its proportions and compounding it is the perfection of science, and is recommended by the leading Chemists in the United States, whose certificates we have. It is perfectly pure and wholesome, and saves time, labor and money of every consumer. It stands Unrivaled; we challenge the world to produce better pure and more wholesome goods.

REASONS WHY IT SHOULD BE USED:

A BARREL OF FLOUR MAKES ABOUT 40 POUNDS MORE BREAD
IT NEVER FAILS AND ALWAYS PLEASES THE CONSUMER.
IT IS THE PERFECTION OF SCIENCE IN COOKERY.
IT IS A COMFORT FOR EVERY HOME.
YOUR BREAD WILL NEVER BE SOUR.
YOUR FOOD WILL BE THE BEST.
YOUR BREAD WILL BE WHITER AND RICHER.
YOUR HEALTH WILL BE PRESERVED BY ITS PURITY.

WARRANTED TO KEEP IN ANY CLIMATE

We do most earnestly caution consumers of Baking Powder against using adulterate and cheap goods, as no good and pure Baking Powder can be sold for less than ours.

An analysis of the cheap clap-trap spurious adulterated goods called Baking Powder, would startle the community of consumers beyond precedence, as most of it is not fit for use, and would not be allowed to be sold were the laws enforced; yet goods of this kind are manufactured and sold by dealers because offered cheap by unscrupulous manufacturers. We caution those who value health, and appreciate good, wholesome living to buy only Pure Baking Powder. Jones' Unrivaled is such. It is an established article throughout the West and South, and is recommended by the highest authority for Purity and Strength.

All first-class storekeepers have it because it is pure and can be relied upon, and is a credit to their stock.

Merchants are authorized to warrant our goods where directions are followed

Our statements are correct and are backed by chemists of note and experience, and we hold ourselves ready to prove our assertions.

We are offering goods of undoubted purity, which are in their compounding, as we claim "UNRIVALED."
